What is a Privacy Notice?

The Data Protection Act 2018 gives everyone the right to be informed about how their information is used by organisations. - where we collect your personal data from
- who we will share your personal data with
- how you can find out more.

Who processes your information?

Sladefield Infant School is the “Data Controller” of personal data. This means the school is responsible for deciding how to use the personal information we hold about our pupils and their parent/carers.

We refer to information that identifies you as “personal data”. When we use your personal data in different ways, this is called “processing”. The Data Protection Act (2018) outlines how personal data should be protected and processed appropriately by organisations including schools.

All staff receive data protection training so that they understand how to use personal data appropriately.

Where we choose to share your information with people who provide essential systems and services to our school, we ensure that the same data protection standards are in place. If sharing your information with service providers is not essential, we will always ask for your consent (permission) before this takes place.

The school has a Data Protection Officer (provided by Services 4 Schools Ltd). Their role is to oversee and monitor our school’s data protection procedures, and to ensure they are compliant with data protection legislation. The data protection officer can be contacted by emailing: DPO@slfield.bham.sch.uk
